▢ Hello world! ▴

I am an inquisitive swede living in Portland, OR with a passion for coding and creativity.

Since March last year, I have been tenaciously working full-time on learning the ins-and-outs of modern frontend and backend JavaScript development. My ambition for 2025 is to transform my coding dreams into a lifelong career.

Creating seamless and inclusive user experiences is my top priority, & I write code with the end-goal of making life easier for users and developers alike.

I'm eager to work on a motivated team that values new ideas, strong communication skills and efficiency as much as I do.

» Web Development (2024 - ongoing)

I have been studying programming full-time since March 2024, with a primary focus on modern JavaScript & React.

Through practical & project oriented studies complemented by theory, I've developed a solid understanding of the JavaScript language; from core fundamentals to advanced concepts along with best practices.

I firmly believe that every application should be designed with a user-first approach, utilizing code that is both reusable & scalable as well as easy to read & maintain.

What I find the most stimulating about programming is how it encourages both logical & creative thinking, together with the highly motivating notion that I can create the exact application I envision without having to compromise.

Completed bootcamps:

- » The Complete JavaScript Course 2024
- » Node.js, Express, MongoDB & More

Instructor: Jonas Schmedtmann.

Work

History

» Visual Merchandiser (2017 – 2024)

H&M, Portland, OR

As a visual merchandiser, I worked on a creative, close-knit team while independently managing my own departments.

My responsibilities included styling, project planning, & installations, all of which successfully promoted sales.

Take away skills:

- » Project Planning
- » Teamwork & Communication
- » Time management & Efficiency
- » Merging Creative vision w/ Commercial expectations
- » Paying great attention to details

» Supervisor (2015 – 2017)

Myrorna Second Hand, Stockholm, Sweden

At Myrorna, I was required to take on a wide range of responsibilities beyond typical retail duties. I supported individuals in getting back on their feet—whether recovering from injuries, managing mental health challenges, or improving language skills.

I was also responsible for handling deliveries & donations, store operations, as well as product pricing & presentation.

Take away skills:

- » Adaptability
- » Empathetic mentoring
- » Tailored Communication & Conflict resolution
- » Operational management

Education

» Art History (2009 – 2010)

Stockholm & Linköping University, Sweden

» Digital Design (2007 – 2008)

Medieskolan, Stockholm, Sweden

» High School (2004 – 2007)

Kulturama, Stockholm, Sweden
